

FILMS UNITED NATIONS NATIONS UNIES

"GENERATIONS OF RESISTANCE"

16 mm., colour, 53 mins. 12 secs.

"For three hundred years, white men have sought to subjugate Africans; for three hundred years Africans have resisted." Those are among the opening words in this film which reviews the main causes and the development of black nationalism in the Union of South Africa.

It deals, at length, with all the events since the beginning of the century, describing poignantly the discrimination and frustration which have been the lot of succeeding generations of Africans - succeeding generations of resistance.

Producer/Writer/Director	PETER DAVIS
Editor	ANNABEL COMPTON
Narrator	MOTLATSI MOTSOASELE
A co-production by	UNITED NATIONS TELEVISION SVERIGES RADIO AB VILLON FILMS, CANADA

Production No. 201677

Release Date: January 1980